Dedication

Three years ago three men met to discuss the lack of spirit and interest in Lowell High School and possible solutions. They felt that if nothing were done to boost spirit, LHS would become a void in everyone's life. This meeting of Jack Reilly, Ken Wallace, and Peter Stamas was the beginning of Friends of Lowell High, Inc.

Friends of Lowell High is a support organization open to all concerned citizens. Starting with a twelve person steering committee, Friends has grown to 700 members this year. Membership is built around twenty various sub-committees representing almost every activity and sport of the school.

Since its beginning, Friends of Lowell High has raised $34,000 through its student dances, annual fall talent shows, and annual Memorial Day flea markets and road races. With this money, Friends has given numerous scholarships on Honor Day and also several banquets to recognize all participants of sports as well as those who excel in other areas.

Many of us owe a great deal to Friends of Lowell High. They have rekindled spirit in the school, not only among students and their parents, but also throughout the Lowell area.

As we reflect over the past four years, we can feel that our days have meant something. Friends has sparked an interest that will burn bright in all of us in everything we do.

For all this love, feeling, and hard work, we dedicate the 1980 Spindle to Friends of Lowell High.

Lowell High School, Lowell High School, may we ever stand, honest, faithful and courageous, loyal to our land. Lowell High School, Lowell High School, we shall all be true to the ideals you teach us thru and thru.

In Memoriam
Christopher J. Mitchell
1914-1980

Chris Mitchell came to Lowell High School as a teacher of history. Shortly thereafter he was appointed Placement Director and charged with the task of implementing and developing a Career Education and Work Study program for the students of Lowell High School; a position he held until his untimely death this past year. During his tenure as Placement Director, Chris worked tirelessly in an effort to improve and expand the services offered by his programs to the students of Lowell High.

Beginning in 1961 he developed Career Education and Work Study programs into nationally recognized models which drew the attention of educators and businessmen from all parts of the United States. One of the original proponents of the philosophy that students should receive as much career education and work experience as possible during their high school years, Chris developed many unique programs and counseled thousands of students during his years at Lowell High.

A firm believer in providing programs tailored to meet the varying needs of individual students, his cheerful personality and dedication to the students of Lowell High School will be greatly missed by both students and faculty members alike.

Retirees

Beatrice T. Hoar

After graduating from Lowell High School fifty years ago, Beatrice T. Hoar matriculated at Boston University — College of Liberal Arts, where she majored in Latin.

She entered the teaching profession at Chelmsford High School in 1939 where she taught algebra, Latin, and English. The following September she started in the Lowell School System at the Morey Junior High, but was soon transferred to Lowell High School where she taught Latin, English, and any other subject that needed teaching at that time.

Early in her career at Lowell High School Bea became actively involved in the local chapter of the AFL and worked zealously for the single salary schedule at Lowell High School, a schedule that later spread to the entire school system. This concerted effort on the part of the members of the Lowell Federation of Teachers was based on "Equal pay for equal work."

In 1955 Beatrice was appointed Director of Guidance at Lowell High and soon forged her motto: "Veni, vidi, vici." In the minds and hearts of the faculty, alumni, and students, her name has become synonymous with getting the job done and getting it done right.

Doing the things she enjoys and just relaxing are Bea's only plans for the immediate future. Knowing her interests and enthusiasm, however, we feel she will be involved in some interesting endeavor very soon.

Eleanor Donahoe

For Eleanor Donahoe, graduation from LHS and Smith College led to a thirty-nine and a half year career in education, encompassing teaching posts in Lowell and Chelmsford, principalship of the George Quessy School and Social Studies Department Head at LHS.

For many years she has served as officer and board member of the Lowell International Institute, the Greater Lowell Smith College Club, and the Lowell Bicentennial Committee.

She will be remembered as a good friend with strong religious convictions, a great sense of humor and kind understanding. Eleanor has already settled into a happy retirement lifestyle, improving her culinary talents and looking for a dog she can befriend.

Rita M. Sullivan

Miss Rita M. Sullivan returned to Lowell High School, the high school she attended, in 1947 to teach English. Rita prepared for the teaching profession at Lowell Teacher's College and Boston University from which she received an MA degree.

As a member of the English Department, Rita has amazed her fellow teachers and her students with her unbelievable energy and zest. She has read all the books, seen all the plays, attended all the exhibitions and concerts, traveled to many countries, and found delight in all. This delight she has coupled to her skill in teaching Shakespeare, Camus, Milton, Sophocles, Ionesco, Dickens, and Austen to thousands of young men and women.

Lowell High School was fortunate to have Rita Sullivan on its faculty for she did "gladly teche." (Chaucer)

Alexander J. Belida

"The first time that we say Hello, begins our last goodbye." These words from a popular song of the day perhaps epitomize what lies ahead for us all. That inevitable "goodbye" has come for Alex Belida, one of the members of our fine history department.

After an illustrious career in the service of our country which spanned some twenty-three years, Alex came to LHS following a brief stint as an ROTC officer at U. Lowell. At Lowell High, Alex has taught Russian and a variety of history courses.

His many years as an Air Force pilot have proved very beneficial during his fifteen year tenure here. The wealth of knowledge, gained from such extensive travel has led to a much more enlightened and vibrant approach to the teaching of history. We will all miss his amusing anecdotes and pleasant disposition.

M. Clare Murray

A graduate of Lowell High School, Salem State College, and Boston University, Clare brought a wealth of business and teaching experience to LHS in 1959. She had been employed as a secretary at Bedford Veterans Administration Hospital and had taught numerous business subjects at Tewksbury High.

Clare's pupils soon learned of her dedication to the teaching profession as she challenged them to develop competence in shorthand and typewriting, requisite skills for future stenographers. While the pupils enjoyed the benefit of her academic expertise, the faculty delighted in her charm and wit. Her comments, always incisive and instructive, oftentimes approached the classic mold.

Clare now has time for her many interests: sewing, refinishing furniture, traveling, enjoying the theatre and opera. The students and faculty of Lowell High School genuinely speak with one voice as they wish this classy lady a long and lively retirement.

Mary V. O'Neil

Miss Mary V. O'Neil graduated from Lowell High School after which she entered Emmanuel College. There she pursued studies in modern foreign languages and earned her BA degree. Later she received her MA degree in the field of modern foreign languages at Middlebury College.

After teaching Spanish for a few years at Lowell High, Mary entered the US Navy. She attained the rank of Lieutenant Commander during her three years of active duty. For several years she served in the Naval Reserve in the Lowell and Lawrence units.

Returning to her teaching duties in the Spanish department at Lowell High School after naval service, Mary became head of the department which has tripled in the number of faculty and students since that time due to her competent and efficient leadership. Throughout her career, Mary has been an understanding and concerned teacher, loyal to her profession, students, teachers in her department, and colleagues at Lowell High.

Although she has done a considerable amount of traveling in the past, retirement will afford her the time to expand this interest as well as the many other interests and talents which she possesses. We are sure that the enthusiasm which she has displayed during her teaching years will continue to express itself in whatever she plans to do in the future.

Mary E. Sullivan

On graduating from Lowell High School, Miss Mary E. Sullivan entered Bridgewater State College where she majored in history and earned her degree. After leaving Bridgewater, Mary worked as secretary to the Director of the USO in Lowell where she was responsible for coordinating the many activities offered to the service personnel in the Lowell area.

Mary has always been very active in labor groups. She was president of the local branch of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, and for many years a member and officer of the Lowell Central Labor Council. She directed the Massachusetts State Labor Council scholarship program at Lowell High with great success.

She began her teaching career at the Butler Junior High School before transferring to Lowell High School. Students from her US History classes will remember a calm and gentle teacher with a nice sense of humor, a great traveler, truly interested in her subject matter and her classes. We wish her joy in her retirement and in her planned trips to Hawaii and California.

ACTIVITIES

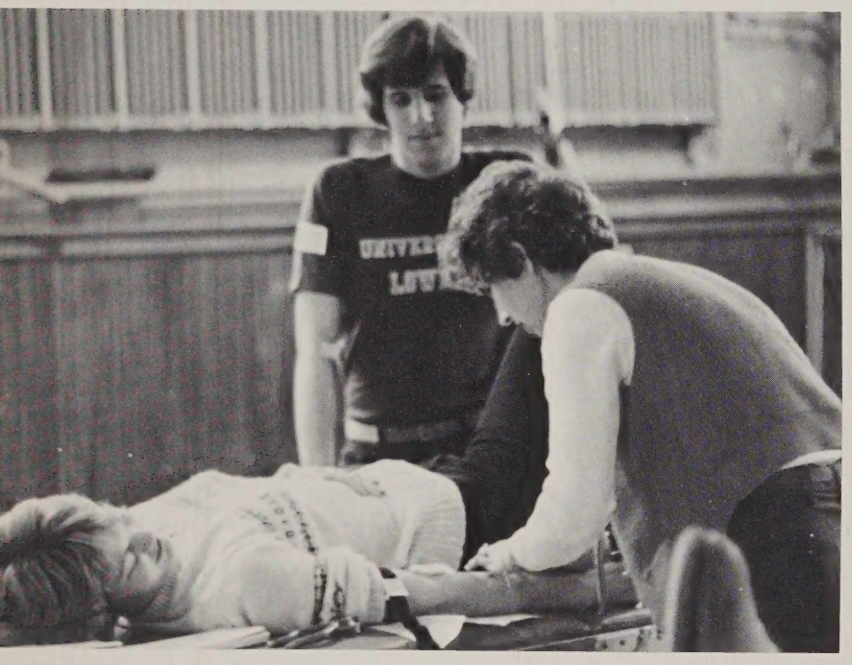
Student Government

The 1979-80 school year was a very active and successful one for the Lowell High School Student Government. As always, they sponsored four dances at the University of Lowell's Cumnock Hall, but they organized many other activities in addition.

Two blood banks were held in the girls' gym at which over 150 pints of blood were donated to the Red Cross. In the spring drive, a t-shirt was given to anyone who gave blood, or at least tried.

A spaghetti supper to bring the students and teachers together was also sponsored by the student government. The meal was offered free of charge and an Italian chef was brought to the school cafeteria to prepare the food. Members of the School Committee dished up the delicious meal.

Not even Mother Nature could stand in the way of the student government's ski trip to Crotched Mountain. Although it was postponed twice because of the lack of snow, it was finally held and was a good time for all the participants.



A student exchange program with Burlington High School was also held during the year. Students toured the two schools and were brought to various sites in both cities.

To top off a great year, the student government supported the city-wide clean up effort in April, "for a lovelier Lowell." During the designated week, students thoroughly cleaned the school's courtyard and parking lot.

Distributive Education

1979-80 was a very rewarding year for Lowell High DECA. Activities began in October when several members volunteered their time to sell merchandise, donated to the Club, at the Westford Flea Market. The proceeds were used, during the Holiday season, to decorate Solomon Mental Health Center and entertain the young children there. A Christmas party was also given at C.T.I. for the preschool children of the area.

In December, DECA celebrated the grand opening of its new school store, "The 1826". It proved to be very successful.

District Competitions were held in February and Lowell High DECA received many honors there and also at the State Competition in Hyannis in March.

The students receiving trophies at these competitions included: Tom Rochette, Michael Fagan, Lisa Fortin, Rachel Desrochers, Louise Rochette, Dan Mendonca, Brian LeMay, Lynn Turcotte, Mike Pieslak, Bonnie Paul, Paul Morin, and Eugene Rochette.

The Spanish Club

Under the guidance of Miss Mary O'Neil, the Spanish Club began its year with the annual Christmas Pinata Party, followed by a Spanish Bingo Party. The highlight of the year was the trip to the Sol Azteca Restaurant in Boston where the members of the club had a chance to enjoy an authentic Mexican dinner.

Le Cercle Francais, with its advisor Mr. Ronald Boisjoly, had another memorable year. The group enjoyed its annual events: a trip to the Museum of Fine Arts, a bake sale, the Christmas Gourmet Dinner, and a Valentine's Day Party. The climax of the year was the trip to a French Restaurant where the group had a chance to taste fine French cuisine. A cook-out in June ended the active season.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League had a very successful and enjoyable year with a membership of nearly 170 Greek and Latin students. President Matt Gettings was also State JCL Treasurer, and in July 1979 attended the JCL convention at Michigan State University. The other officers for the 1979-80 year were V.P. Phil Brown, Sec. Patty Fleming, and Treas. Jimmy Foley.

The big event for the fall was the celebration of the Feast of the Saturnalia in late November. This was held at the Athenian Corner, where the toga clad JCL members enjoyed a sumptuous banquet and a program of original and superbly acted entertainment.

In mid-March, a large group of JCL members took part in Classics Day, an annual event which was held at U-Mass, Boston. In the academic contests held that day, Phil McMahon took third prize in Latin IV and Ray Espinola captured second prize in Latin III.

In May, the annual State Convention was held at Wakefield High School and Lowell JCL members competed in academic, art, and athletic contests, including the famous chariot race.

My Fair Lady

On May 8 and 9, the LHS Choral Arts and Drama Departments, under the direction of B. Douglas Townshend and Michael Sokolowski, presented My Fair Lady. The story concerns a poor cockney flower girl who takes lessons from an English professor of phonetics on how to speak and act correctly.

The show, as usual, was a huge success. The part of Eliza Doolittle, the flower girl, was portrayed by Sharyn Hardy on Thursday night and Cindy Hines on Friday. Scott Cohen thrilled the audience as Prof. Henry Higgins.

My Fair Lady marks the end of an era as many people in the department graduate. Among them are: Dan Bedard as Col. Pickering, Linda Paquette as Mrs. Higgins, Bruce Townshend as Alfie Doolittle, Camille Grandchamp as Mrs. Pearce, Jim Slattery as Freddy Eynsford-Hill, Mary Crowley and Lisa Panagopoulos as lead dancers, Andy LePage as Jamie, Nancy Winter as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill, and Brenda Richards, a veteran actress, as a dancer.

The backstage crew also consisted of graduating seniors. Daniel Bedard, with the help of Mrs. Joan Hancock, designed and built the 12 foot set which doubled as both the study and ballroom scenes. Anne Di Sciullo worked as the stage manager with Debbie Richardson as her assistant.

A newcomer to the group, Lynne Lombard, directed the lightboard.

All of these people have been outstanding and contributed much to the productions over the past four years. With talent and dedication, they have left their mark on the LHS stage.

The National Honor Society is an organization of students chosen on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Throughout the school year, members of NHS visited people in nursing homes and hospitals, tutored other students, and worked in the bookroom and library.

On April 2, the induction ceremony for new members was held, with a reception following in the cafeteria. The Friends of Lowell High sponsored a banquet at the Windsor on April 27 to honor NHS members.

Choral Arts

The A Cappella Choir and Special Chorus, under the direction of Mr. B. Douglas Townshend, had a very successful and busy year. The Choir was especially active with its performances at the Lowell District Courthouse, the State House, various banquets, and numerous concerts throughout December. The holiday season was highlighted by the Chorus' Holiday Special, a concert broadcast over a local cable television station. The Special Chorus performed at almost every assembly and at its Valentine's Day Musical Review. The year came to a close as the graduating seniors sang the class ode.

Under the direction of their new coach, Ms. Marie Cote Smith, the Spindle City Spinners created a fine reputation for themselves in the high school and in competition. The Spinners captured 2nd place for dance-twirl in competition at the Hayden Recreation Center in Lexington and 1st place in the Miss Shamrock Festival in Billerica.

The girls usually practiced an hour or more a day, including Saturdays. In addition to competitions, they performed at football games, parades and pep rallys.

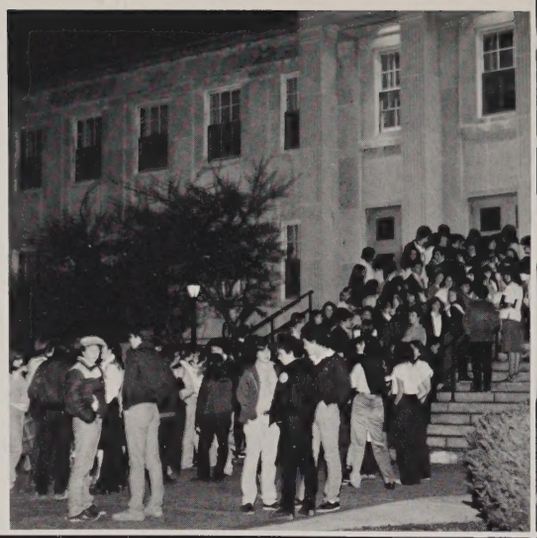
Dances

Friends of Lowell High and the Student Council sponsored several dances throughout the school year. Cumnock Hall was always filled with hundreds of students who danced until 11:30 to music provided by disc jockeys.

Money raised from these dances was used for scholarships as well as sports equipment and the awards banquets sponsored by Friends of Lowell High.



Roundball Night

In March the annual Night of Roundball was held at Scondras Gym. In the first of the three-game set-up, the freshman basketball team defeated the elementary school faculty by just a hair with a score of 28-27. The JV team moved on to win the battle against the Lowell High School faculty.

Strictly for laughs, the varsity team donned boxing gloves to play a game against the cheerleaders. In the feature game of the evening, the varsity team, although it put up a good fight, bowed to the alumni with a final score of 39-37. Last on the agenda was the slam-dunk contest won by Tracy Mitchell with Andy Pires as the runner-up.

ATHLETICS

Thanksgiving Weekend

. . . Rally

The Thanksgiving weekend kicked off with the pep rally, which roused the students to cheers and high hopes. Coach Nelson introduced the Raiders one by one, after which the cheerleaders showed the spectators a normal football practice session. The majorettes followed, waving flags of red and white in a precision routine. The hour ended with an uproar of cheers that excited the crowd into a mood of anticipation for the upcoming Thanksgiving events.

. . . Game

On November 22, 1979, Thanksgiving Day, thousands of high school football fans braved the chilly, overcast weather and packed Cawley Stadium to watch the annual Lowell-Lawrence Turkey Day spectacle. The game resulted in a 19-0 shutout by Lowell over their down-river rivals.

A first quarter touchdown by Steve Coleman fired up the home crowd early and some sparkling play, including the two pass interceptions by Bob Furtado, carried the excitement throughout the game. Kevin Petzold was awarded the defensive star of the game trophy, while quarterback Charlie Gallagher, with two touchdowns, received the offensive award.

. . . Powder Puff Game

To raise student morale, a Powder Puff Football Game was held on Sunday, November 25, at Cawley Stadium. With the aid of Coaches Jim Duggan and Steve Trudel, the senior girls managed to edge out the junior girls. Sharing the quarterback duties for the seniors were Kelly Keefe and Sue Moynihan.

Junior Lisa Lefebvre, questioning the deciding call, poured a pitcher of water over the head of the referee, Dr. Wood. The seniors then went on to defeat a team of women faculty members.

Defense and the 19-0 Thanksgiving Day victory over Lawrence highlighted the 1979 football season for LHS. Under Headcoach Walter Nelson, the Red and Gray's tough defense held opponents Chelmsford, St. John's Prep, Everett, Nashua, and Lawrence to 8 points or less.

Spearheading the attack was Captain Peter Quinlan who led the team in tackles and also played an outstanding tightend. Defensive standouts Walter Zepkoski, Scott McQuaide, Dan Kelleher, Bob Furtado, and Kevin Petzold caused havoc for opposing offenses yearlong.

The offense was led by the clutch passing of senior quarterback Charles Gallagher and the consistent running game of Alan Taupier and Steve Coleman. Blocking upfront by tightend Steve Petros and guard Peter Danas was outstanding throughout the season, which included one of the toughest schedules in Massachusetts.

The class of 1980 initiated soccer as an LHS varsity sport. Unfortunately, the team followed the same route as most first year teams do, they failed to notch a victory. This team, however, had nothing to be ashamed of as they turned in several very respectable performances. The perennial soccer powerhouse, Billerica, was only able to notch a 2-0 victory, while Chelmsford, thanks to a three goal fourth quarter, defeated Lowell 5-3.

Senior co-captain Ray Espinola paced the team with his ball handling skills and received the teams's MVP award. Juniors Tony Cavaleiro and Roy Gregorio received the Most Improved Player and Coaches awards respectively. Senior Gene LaFerriere landed a permanent starting position and played solid defense throughout the season. Steve Gendron and Mark Briere, both seniors, served as utility men, playing any position from goaltender to halfback or forward.

Next year's league affiliation, coupled with the fact that the majority of the team this year were underclassmen, has Coaches Daniel Morais and Jose Soares expressing high hopes for the future.

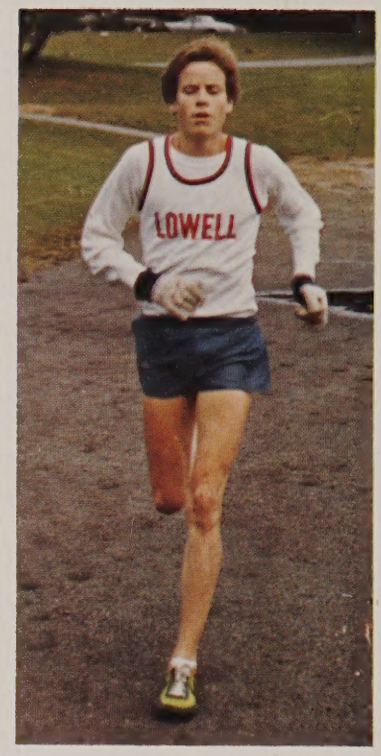
The Boys' Cross Country harriers, short on manpower but teeming with spirit, ran over Fort Hill and through Shedd Park to a 4-3 record. The most rewarding win of the season came against powerhouse Haverhill.

Only two seniors were on the team. Captain Tim Phelps and Dan Levy capped their four years with an injury riddled but successful cross country season.

Junior Tom Neylon, the top runner for the Red and Gray, placed a superb seventh at the Mass. State Coaches Meet.



Junior Jim Murray acquired valuable points during every meet, helping the Raiders to a fine season.

Under the direction of Coach Jim McGuirk, the LHS Girls' Cross Country Team in its initial season finished its campaign with an impressive 5-5 win-loss mark. After dropping three consecutive meets, the Kirk Street speedsters rallied, taking 5 of 7, posting their even record.

Lowell's Most Valuable Player, freshman Lisa Jacques, carried the harriers into the State Class A meet. The team finished 18th in a field of 35 competitors. Other outstanding individuals included freshman Shelley Mondou and junior co-captains Sharon Gettings and Jill Stamp.

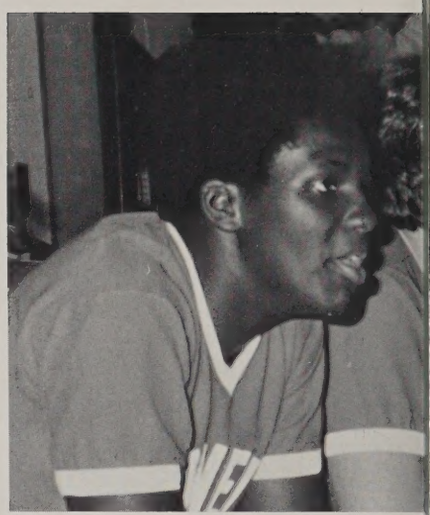
The opening of the 1979-80 varsity Volleyball schedule provided a promising start with 7 out of 9 players returning from the previous season, but 3 key players were lost due to injuries midway through the season.



Victories proved fewer than expected, while the Red and Gray posted a 4-11 win-loss mark. Coach Sue Olsen hopes that entry into the MVC will motivate the team next year.

Awarded the MVP trophy, captain Denise Belanger led the team in points. Receiving the Most Improved Player award was senior Jill McSwiggin, and the Coach's Trophy was awarded to junior Cheryl Lauziere, who is expected to be a valuable asset next season

They were a heightless, inexperienced team that many predicted would be lucky to have a record above .500. They were the Boys' Basketball Team, who not only finished with an 11-5 record, but also with the bonus of a state tournament berth. They also took the University of Lowell's Holiday Tournament title for the second year in a row.

Much of their success was due to a total team effort against teams that often outsized them measurably. Though the season ended on a down note with the 74-47 loss to Methuen in the State Tournament, both Coach Charlie Ryan and the players agree that overall the season was a success.

The team was sparked by the play of tri-captains Dennis McCafferty, Kyle Oliver, and Jim Mitchell. Jim was awarded the Friends of Lowell High MVP trophy and Wayne Simmons received the MVP Bigelow Award. Kyle Oliver received the Most Improved Player Award from the Friends of Lowell High and Chris Makiej the Bigelow Award for Most Improved Player. The Coach's Award went to Dennis McCafferty. Coach Ryan was also named Coach of the year by the Lowell Sun.

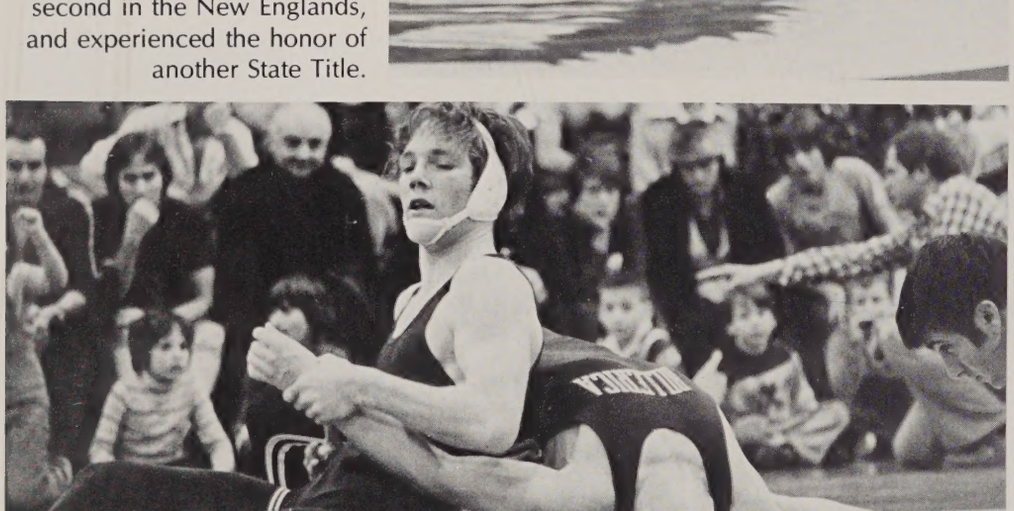
The 1979-80 LHS Wrestling Team competed in 17 dual meet exhibitions. At the finish of their campaign, the Red and Gray matmen had placed second in the Lowell Holiday Christmas Tournament, entertained a 17-0 win-loss mark, placed first in the Division 1 Northern Sectionals, captured five individual State championships, had its coach awarded "Coach of the Year," placed six members of its squad on the Sun All Star Team, saw Bob Brouillette awarded Outstanding Wrestler at the Wayland Tournament, finished second in the New Englands, and experienced the honor of another State Title.



Largely responsible was Coach George Bossi, who directed Lowell's assault with the aid of five state crown winners: senior co-captains Scott McQuaide 17-0 (147 lbs.) and Bob Brouillette 17-0 (128 lbs.), senior Tim Heitzman 8-0 (114 lbs.), junior Jim Quigley 16-1 (134 lbs.), and sophomore Steve Beati 17-0 (100 lbs.). The 1980 Spring Season seemed to pass quickly for everyone at LHS. Everyone that is, except the members of the boys' track team.

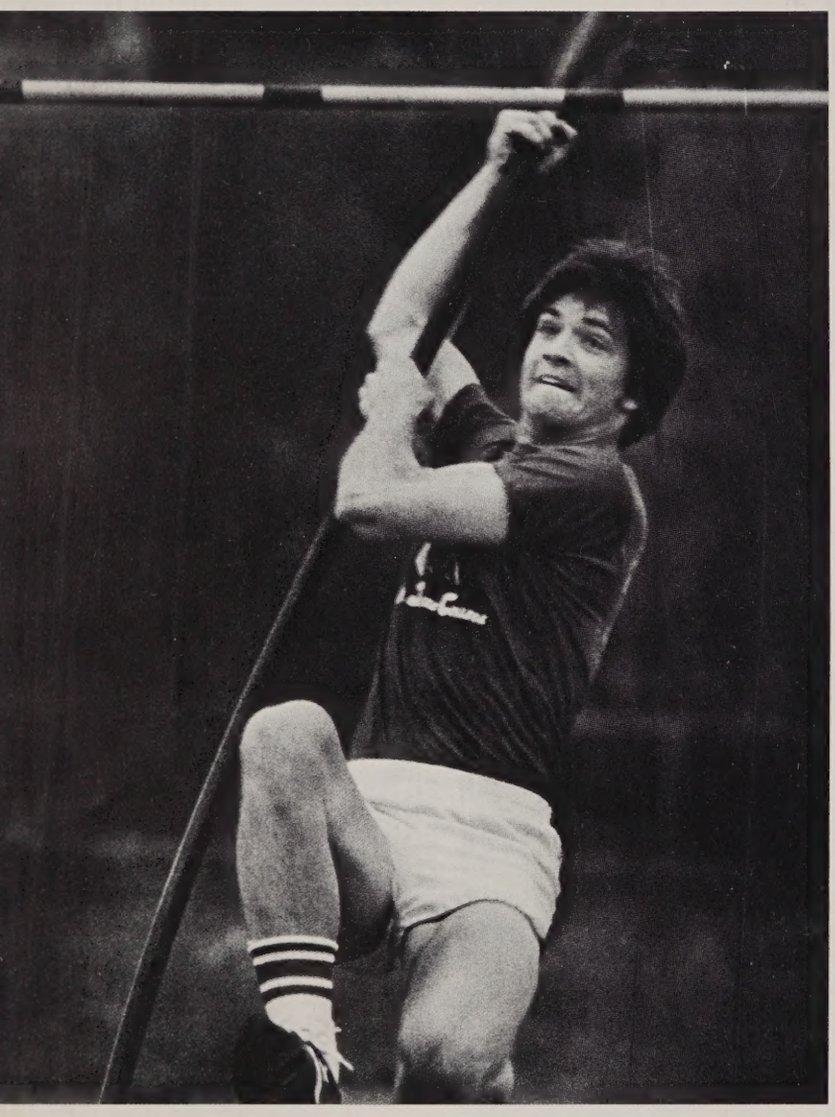
Without league affiliation for the last time, Coach John Lang's undermanned squad managed only a 2-5 record. Plagued by some tough losses during the season, the trackmen were able to defeat crosscity rivals Lowell Voke and come up with several outstanding individual performances which highlighted the season.

Triple jumper James Mitchell went undefeated in dual meets and won four invitational meets, including the prestigious State Coaches Meet with a jump of 45'11½". These accomplishments earned him MVP honors.

Senior co-captains Dan Levy and Tim Phelps scored consistently for the team. Tim concentrated on the high jump, while Dan stuck to the middle distances. Seniors Shawn Noonan (shotput) and Bob Furtado (discus) did well in their respective field events.



Junior Kevin Wayne was awarded the Most Improved Trophy for his feats in the 220, while junior hurdler Steve Psaladakis received the Coaches Award. Juniors Tom Neylon, Jim Murray, and Greg Wood excelled in the longer distances for the team, along with frosh Bob Powers.

Kelly completed the regular season with a 9-1 record in the shotput. She unloaded a personal best of 37'11" and went on to place third in the State Class A Meet. Cindy, also a shotputter, was runner-up to Kelly in many meets and took sixth place in the State Class A Meet.

Junior Jill Stamp was this year's team MVP. She set school records in the high jump (5'4") and the 440 (60.5 sec.), completing the season undefeated in these two events. Jill also placed fourth in the 440 and fifth in the high jump at the State Class A Meet.

Sophomore Ronda Shrigley set a school record in the 880 (2:23) and received the Coaches' Award, while sophomore Cheryl Fuller took the Most Improved honors.

The relay teams also fared well in the State Meet. The mile relay crew of Jill Stamp, Ronda Shrigley, Lisa Jacques, and Lynda Dumais placed fifth. Martha Howe, Sharon Gettings, Merlene Rangulong and Cheryl Fuller combined efforts to take third in the 440 relay.

After losing five out of their first nine games in their 1980 season, a losing season seemed inevitable for the LHS Baseball Team. However, the team rallied to win ten of their next eleven games. Only a heartbreaking loss to Arlington kept them out of tournament play and finished their season at 13-7-1.

Senior Paul Creegan led the team in batting average (.414), hits, RBI's, and runs scored. Co-captain Jim Duggan batted .377, led the team in stolen bases, and was second to Paul in hits and runs scored. Co-captain Peter Quinlan played well defensively and was second in RBI's. On the mound, junior Gary Wallace went 6-2, had 57 strike-outs in 62 innings pitched, and a no-hitter to his credit.

nicely with Leslie Bodor towards the end of the season. Leslie started the season at #2 singles, but had a tough year coming off knee surgery.

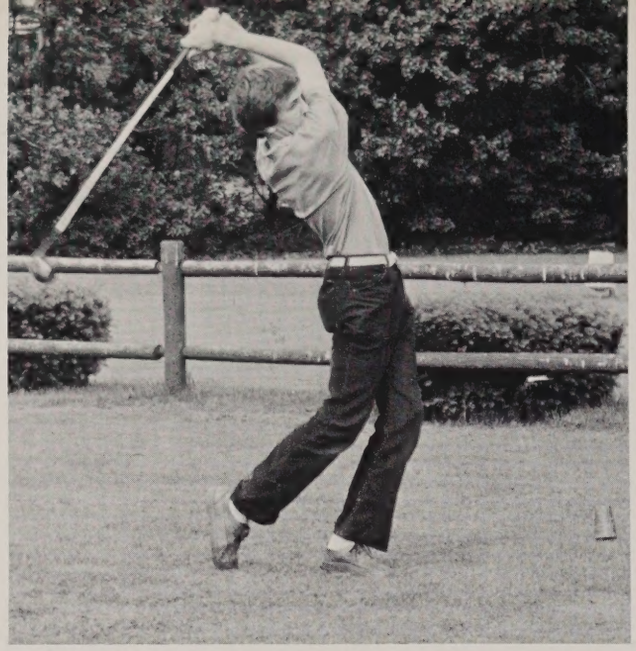
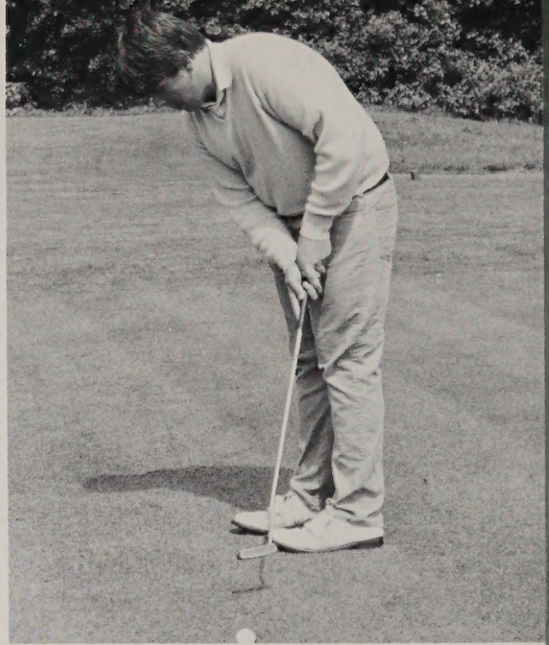
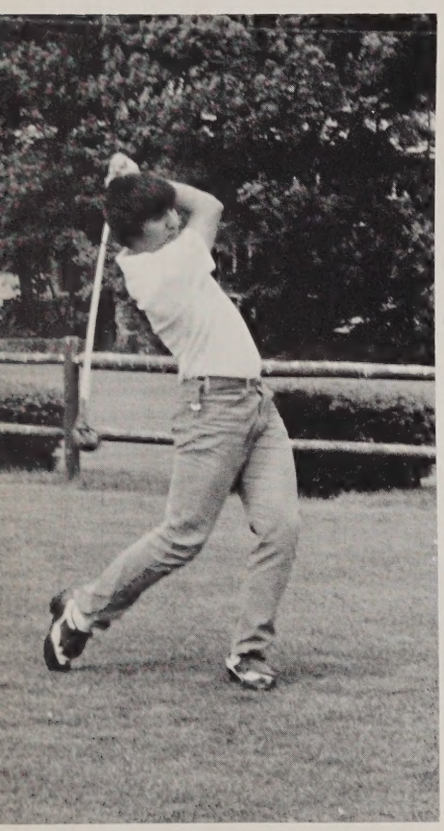
A second place finish in the highly competitive Greater Boston League is something the 1980 LHS Golf Team can be very proud of. Lowell was the only team to defeat first place Haverhill (5½ — 3½) and had a 6-2 league record, 8-4 overall.

Steven Butler and co-captain Brian Foye were the only two seniors on this year's squad.







Steven came up with many key victories throughout the year while Brian received the Most Improved award and was elected to the Lowell Sun All-Star Team.

Junior co-captain Brian Moriarty had the lowest average score on the team and was named Most Valuable Player. Freshman Brian Donahue played very consistently all year long and received the Coach's Award.

Class Ode
"Time Slips Away"

Words by James Slattery — Music by David Keefe

When we look back at all the years we shared without a tear, it's now that we fear — it will all slip away.

There were times when we were afraid and needed someone, but now we stand alone, together as one we grow and become the people who once had cared.

We look to the future for we know what we have seen in the memories of times gone by that now haunt you and me.

Friends will come and friends will go — they will matter though — not as much as this short time spent when we realize we're on our own.

And so we shed that tear and discover a short time can slip away.

Death, be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou are not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death, nor yet canst thou kill me.
From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee do go,
Rest of their bones, and soul's delivery.
Thou'art slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell,
And poppy'or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally
And death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die.

First, an apology. We tried to present many different and new ideas, features and faces in the 1980 Spindle. However, due to circumstances beyond our control, we could not present these events to you in the style that we wished. Although we had them scheduled, photographers failed to show up for The Harvest, "My Fair Lady", and Boys' Spring Track. We had to obtain pictures from other sources, or, as in the case of The Harvest, leave the event out of the book. The staff of the Spindle is disappointed with these misfortunes, and we hope our fellow classmates understand that we did the best possible with what we had.

We also would like to thank a number of people without whom this book would never have been published.

Diane Bergeron — for running errands, copying layouts, and organizing the superlatives

Kathy Burns — for helping with captions in the Senior Section, helping to organize the superlatives, and copying layouts

Scott Cohen — for supplying us with your pictures from "My Fair Lady". We couldn't have done the play section without them!

Marian Funaro — for being ever patient with supplying information

Steve Gendron — for giving us your skill and talents and time writing most of the copy for the book

Tim and Tom Grover — for your help with some of the sports copy

Sharyn Hardy — for copying layouts, running errands, supplying your "My Fair Lady" pictures, typing copy, and all your organization. You came through in the clutch, when we needed you most.

Michelle Jodoin — for copying layouts, writing captions, doing art work, and most of all for being there at our last deadline!

Mr. Jack O'Brien — for always giving us the key to 204 when Miss Hylen was absent

Pete Reilly — for writing captions for the various sports sections and the senior section

Gary Chedekel

Jim Foley — for getting ads

Matthew Gettings

And to all others who helped us in any way,

Thank you,
